Bush sweeps to victory

VASHINGTON, Nov 9, Agencies): Republican Jeorge Bush rode a swell of peace and prosperity to pecome 41st President of the Jnited States and he vowed o work with a Democratic Congress that could seek evenge for one of the harshst campaigns in recent times. Bush defeated Democrat Michael Dukakis decisively yeserday, taking 40 of the 50 states against 10 and the District of Columbia won by his rival and lepriving the Massachusetts governor of the upset win he had ioped for.

Popular

Vice-President Bush, former irrector of the Central Williams Agency (CIA), former US envoy to China and exambassador to the United Nations, rolled to victory with the unabashed support of Ronaid Reagan, one of the most popular presidents ever, who had urged voters to "win one more

Democrats retain control of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov9, (Agencies): Democrats, boosted by the power of incumbency, retained control of the 101st Congress to no one's surprise yesterday and are not likely to grant George Bush much of a honeymoon when he assumes the presidency.

Bush pledged to "do my best to reach out and work constructively" with Congress, but since retaking the Senate two years ago, Democrats have been flexing their muscle on Capitol Hill with their own agenda.

And the continued presence in the Senate of Lloyd Bentsen, Democrat-Texas, the unsuccess ful Democratic vice presidential candidate, may present Bush with a formidable obstacle. Possibility

Democrats appeared assured of retaining at least their 54-46 edge in the Senate, and projec-tions pointed to the possibility of a two-seat gain. Of the 33 Senate seats at stake, 18 belonged to Democrats and 15 to Republicans. Each party left three seats open with

The House of Representatives, which closed the 100th Congress at 255-177 for the Democrats with three vacancies, remained solidly in Democratic hands with a gain of six seats expected.

In the Senate races, Democrats had won 18 seats and led in two more, while Republicans had won 13. In House races, Democrats had won 259 seats and led in three more races, while Republicans had won 169 and led in four.

Denied

Among Senate incumbents, Nevada Republican Chic Hecht fell to former Governor Richard Bryan, and appointed Nebraska Senator David Karnes was denied a term in his own right by popular former two-term Democratic governor Robert Kerrey, a Vietnam medal of honour winner. And former farm broadcaster Conrad Burns toppled Democratic Senator John Melcher in Montana.

Democrats also took away governerships from Republicans in West Virginia and Indiana, where Evan Bayh, the son of former Senator Birch Bayh, won. His father had been defeated in 1980 by Dan Quayle, who was elected Vice-President yesterday.

Most Americans in Kuwait favoured Bush

KUWAIT: In a small random survey of Americans living in Kuwait, the majority reflected the opinions of their countrymen back home in their choice for the next US President.

Out of 10 Americans, six said they favoured president-elect George Bush. Two of the US citizens said they voted for the defeated Democratic nominee Michael Dukakis. Two other Americans contacted by the Arab Times said they didn't vote.

Americans living in Kuwait voted in Tues r's election by absentee ballot. There are more than 4,000 Americans in Kuwait.

FOSTORIA, Ohio, Nov 9, (AP): Harry Sprout voted early for President yesterday. In the past he has voted often: it was the 20th consecutive time that he cast his ballot at a presidential election. Sprout, who will be 98 on Dec

7, said he first voted for Woodrow Wilson in 1912, helping elect the Democrat to the first of two consecutive terms. He said he has never missed a presidential election since.

Sprout refused to say how he voted this year.

The Saudi monarch made the remarks during a banquet he gave in honour of HH the Crown Prince and Prime Minister of Kuwait, Sheikh Saad Al Abdullah.

World leaders congratulate Bush

NEW YORK, Nov 9, (Agencies): World leaders congratulated Republican George Bush today on his victory in the presidential election, but the dollar was off in overseas markets as traders worried about the US budget and trade imbalances. The Greek press gave muted coverage to the loss by Democrat Michael Dukakis, the son of Greek immigrants, with most national papers burying the results in their side pages.

Soviet media said Bush was expected to continue President

Reagan's policies, which brought the signing of a treaty to scrap land-based intermediaterange nuclear missiles. An official said an early summit with Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev is likely.

"Such summits have become normal phenomena in our relations," said Soviet Foreign Min-istry spokesman Vadim Perfiliev.

Confident "I can be absolutely confident, that such summits would follow, but I can't provide concrete information as to the next summit," he said. China's official Xinhua news agency warmly endorsed Bush as having "a rich experience in public service unmatched by most of his predecessors."

KUWAIT, Nov 9, (KUNA): In the first official Kuwaiti reaction to the results of the US presidential elections, Acting Premier and Foreign Minister Sheikh Sabah Al Ahmed said today, the election of a US President is a purely internal American matter. "It's an internal matter that concerns the Americans alone,"

Sheikh Sabah said. "As Arabs we wish that any American President would pay greater attention to our issues in the context of justice and objectivity and translate human rights slogans to actual practices with no discrimination between one race and another," he added.

UK, Iran will soon resume diplomatic ties

LONDON, Nov 9, (Reuter): Britain and Iran are expected to announce soon that they will resume normal diplomatic relations early next year, Foreign Office sources have said. Britain sent a senior Foreign Office official to Vienna today for talks with Iran.

Sir David Miers, Assistant Undersecretary of State for Middle Eastern Affairs, was expected to meet Mahmud Vaezi, head of the Iranian Foreign Ministry's West European desk, British officials said.

The talks are aimed at reopening the British embassy in Tehran and the appointment of ambassadors by both countries in the new year, the officials said.

Downgraded Britain closed its embassy in Iran in 1980 after hostile demonstrations, asking Sweden to look after British interests. Relations were further downgraded in 1987 after an Iranian envoy was arrested in Britain for alleged shoplifting and a British diplomat was beaten up in Tehran. Britain withdrew all its diplomats and Iran left a charge

MOSCOW, Nov 9, (Reuter): Tens of thousands of Soviet Armenians staged a national protest over what they regard as lost territory at Monday's Bolshevik Revolution anniversary parade in Yerevan, eyewitnesses said today.

Foreigners who were in the republican capital for the anniversary said the protesters blocked the city's central Lenin Square for well over three hours chanting their demands.

Israel tried to kill Arafat

TUNIS, Nov 9, (UPI): Palestine Liberation Organisation leader Yasser Arafat, speaking shortly before an Arab newspaper published a report of a mysterious attack on one of his aides, disclosed that Israel tried to assassinate him recently.

"The Israelis have been trying to kill me for long time," Arafat told a group of four Western reporters at his Tunis nerve centre last night.

"(Ariel) Sharon and (Yitzhak) Shamir have tried again recently," the PLO cheif said. "That is why our Tunisian brothers have taken security measures and we are grateful to them."

Security in the neighbourhood where the PLO has its offices was extraordinarily tight. Tunisian police manned roadblocks on the approaches and carefully searched visitors.

The Kuwaiti daily Al Seyassah reported today that senior Arafat aide Bassam Abu Sharif escaped an assassination attempt outside his home in Tunis on Monday night.

Arafat made no reference to a direct attack on Abu Sharif, who already survived a letter bomb attack in the past. But Arafat confirmed a recent statement by Abu Sharif that "Israel groups have prepared terrorist actions against the leaders and institutions of the PLO."

Al Sevassah said Sharif declined comment on its report. Arafat also said he was unconcerned by the outcome of the US

BOSTON, Nov 9, (UPI): Andrei Sakharov, the Soviet physicist and human rights champion, may receive a cardiac pacemaker at the same Boston hospital where his wife, Yelena Bonner, underwent heart bypass surgery two years ago.

Martin Bander, spokesman for Massachusetts General Hospital, issued a statement yester-day saying Sakharov "began outpatient testing of his cardiovascular system" at the facility, but refused to elaborate. "At (Sakharov's) request, no further medical information will be given for the next 10 to 14 days."

Sakharov, 67, arrived in the United States on the first foreign trip he has been allowed in 30 years and is expected to remain in the United States for two weeks for a series of meetings that may include at Nov 14 meeting with President Reagan.

Gdansk shipyard strikes collapse

GDANSK, Poland, Nov 9, (Reuter): Young Solidarity militants today called off strikes at two Gdansk shipyards after failing to win support from other shipyard workers.

The stoppages at the Wisla and repair yards collapsed after only 24 hours.

They were staged by workers demanding re-legalisation of Solidarity and revocation of a Polish government decision to shut the Lenin shipyard where the banned union was born.

"Nobody has joined us. We have to finish," an 18-year-old striker said, taking down red-and-white Polish flags emblazoned with the word Solidarity from the gate of the repair yard and rolling them up.

"We counted on others joining us but no one did," he added. He said only about 100 strikers stayed overnight in the yard which employs 5,800 men. About 500 began the sit-in stoppage at mid-day yesterday.

against the Lenin shipyard shut-

Appeared

Walesa, who has called the Lenin shipyard shutdown an attack on Solidarity's most sym-bolic stronghold, refused yesterday to call out the yard's 11,000 men, saying the time was not ripe for strikes.

Some observers believed he backed off knowing he would get little support for a nationwide strike call and because the government of Prime Minister Micczyslaw Rakowski appeared to be itching for a showdown.

Walesa instead denounced the young strikers for defying his authority. He threatened to resign, saying their action was a warning that a new generation of workers could run out of control.

The veteran Solidarity leader appeared to be telling the goverment that young workers were increasingly restless and radicalised because of the refusal to make concessions to Solidarity, and that he might be unable to control them.

Young militants expressed bitterness when Walesa called off Poland's second strike wave of the year last August, after the authorities invited Solidarity to talks on Poland's future and promised to consider re-legalising the union.

Many young strikers were suspicious of government intentions and Walesa had difficulty in persuading them to go back to work.

BEIRUT, Nov 9, (Reuter): Lebanon's Muslim defence chief today sacked the Army's Christian commander, General Michel Aoun, who heads one of the two competing cabinets in the country.

Fresh tremors shook 100,000 homeless survivors of southwest China's massive earthquake today and scientists warned of further quakes in the devastated

Chinese seismologists quoted by the New China News Agency said 184 separate tremors had been recorded since Sunday's quake, registering 7.6 on the Richter scale, killed more than 900 people.

They said more shocks measuring about six on the Richter scale were likely to strike Lancang county in Yunnan province, the worst-hit area where tens of thousands of barnboo-thatch peasants' homes have been destroyed.

Seismologists sent to the stricken area after the first quake were among those stranded when aftershocks caused further damage, earlier reports said.

Buildings were damaged in a 40,000 square km (15,000 sq. mile) area around Lancang and roads linking the county with the outside world cut. Authorities in Yunnan said medical supplies, food and tents would be airdropped to the quake zone.

Iraq and Iran to swap some POWs on Nov 20

GENEVA, Nov 9, (UPI): Iran and Iraq agreed today to allow the International Red Cross to begin exchanging all 1,526 registered sick and wounded prisoners of war on Nov 20.

Other wounded but so far unregistered POWs will be counted in the meantime and flown home by Dec 11, the two sides said in separate media statements.

The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), guardian of the 1949 Geneva War Conventions, got the two sides to agree on the limited POW repatriation in talks separate from the UN-sponsored Gulf peace negotiations.

First news of the exchange was given to reporters by Iraqi Foreign Minister Tareq Aziz after talks with United Nations mediator Jan Eliasson.

Improve Eliasson welcomed the news. Asked by reporters if it could unblock the protracted Gulf peace talks here he said: "Anything that would improve the climate and increase confidence between the parties would be to the good of the process."

But diplomats say it is too early to describe the accord as a breakthrough in stalled efforts to settle the Gulf conflict halted by the Aug 20 ceasefire.

The surprise agreement apparently amounts to just a small mark of progress in the UN-mediated peace talks, they issues of troop withdrawal and total repatriation of an estimated 100,000 POWs.

Iranian delegation spokesman Morteza Sarmadi told reporters this morning that the ICRC proposed the immediate exchange of the registered 411 Iranian and 1,115 Iraqi sick and wounded prisoners.

The ICRC proposed the date of Nov 20 for the repatriation of the sick and disabled POWs and we did not object," he said.

Sarmadi said those prisoners will be flown home "within a few days" following Nov 20 while ICRC delegates will register remaining "sick and disabled" who in turn will all be repatriated "by Dec 11."

Aziz confirmed the agreement after a separate meeting with Eliasson this morning. As parties to the Geneva War Conventions of 1949, Iran and Iraq were in fact obliged to exchange sick and wounded POWs even before the Aug 20 ceasefire.

Eliasson, of Sweden, also met this afternoon with Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati but did not convene a direct full plenary session.

He told reporters after a plenary late Tuesday that apart from the question of sick and wounded prisoners, the 10-week-old talks otherwise remained deadlocked on all substantive issues.

Those first comprise withdrawal of forces to recognised borders and secondly the repatriation of all estimated 100,000 POWs, then the drafting

There is no progress on other questions," Eliasson said.

Withdrawal of troops to "internationally recognised boundaries" was specified by the UN Security Council as the first step after the ceasefire but the issue is blocked by disagreement over control of the Shatt Al Arab waterway.

Iraq claims sovereignty over the estuary by having the frontier on the Iranian shore, arguing it is Baghdad's only outlet to the Gulf. Tehran says the border must run down the middle according to a 1975 agreement. Stalemate

That stalemate in turn blocks progress on the second specified step which is repatriation of all POWs.

A senior Iranian official said on Tuesday current peace negotiations could drag on for some time.

Deputy Iranian Foreign Mini-ster Ali Mohammed Besharati told a news conference in Kuwait "our opinion is they will last for several years. Aziz echoed his words, saving after Tuesday night's session: "We do not want to prolong talks but sometimes it happens against our will." The first round of talks was

THE world war after the next one will be fought with rocks — Einstein, German-born physicist (1879-1955)

No new American Mideast initiative soon

By Carol Giacomo

WASHINGTON, (Reuter): Right-wing gains in Israel's election make it increasingly likely there will be no fresh US peace initiatives in the Middle East at least until after a new American president takes office in January. US analysts say.

About all the (Reagan) administration can do over the next few months is conduct soundings and hold hands," said Charles William Maynes, editor of foreign policy magazine.

That might have been different if (Shimon) Peres had won." he told Reuters.

Tuesday's general election failed to give a clear majority to either Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's right-wing Likud or Foreign Minister Peres' centreleft Labour Party and both rushed to court religious parties who hold the balance of power. Government Shamir and many analysts gave Likud the edge in forming a government but US State Department officials, who declined to be quoted by name, adamantly refused to make any assumptions.

"It may take weeks or even longer" before the government takes shape and "it's not safe to assume anything," one official

He said it was possible the religious parties, which are specifically concerned with domestic issues, could align with Peres. As to other proclivities on the peace process, he said there was "no clear cut picture on that" just yet.

Concessions

The Israeli election was fought largely on war and peace issues against the background of an 11month-old Palestinian uprising in the Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip.

Peres embraced a US plan calling for an international conference as an umbrella for direct Arab-Israeli negotiations and territorial concessions in exchange for peace.

But Shamir's opposition to both key concepts had basically doomed the US initiative months ago.

"The US proposal now is a non-starter, certainly if Shamir is in control," Maynes said.

Robert Neumann, a former US ambassador to Saudi Arabia. said it was virtually unthinkable the Reagan administration would make any decisions on how to proceed with Middle East peace efforts before it leaves office next January.

"That would mean tensions in the area and the violence might certainly increase," he said.

Peace prospects have also been awaiting the outcome of a toplevel Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) meeting later this

Rough roads make life uneasy for Ugandans

By David Ress

KAMPALA, (Reuter): The best stretches of road between Uganda's two largest towns are the parts where there is no tarmac.

The 80 km (50 mile) stretch from the capital Kampala to Jinja, on the shores of Lake Victoria, forms part of the northern corridor, a road and railway linking the Kenvan port of Mombasa to Uganda and other landlocked East African countries.

The corridor is Uganda's lifeline and virtually the only link to the outside world for neighbouring Rwanda, southern Sudan and castern Zaire. It also carries traffic for Burundi.

But Uganda's relations with Kenya have often been tense and it is now looking to lessen its dependence on dilapidated roads and border controls in Kenya. East Africa's most industrialised nation. The border was closed for two weeks last December after clashes along the frontier.

"It used to be so easy. But now...." said one Kenyan trucker with a resigned shrug, when asked about road conditions along the northern corridor. Eroded

"What you see is the result of 25 years of neglect," a senior official of Uganda's Coffee Marketing Board lamented.

The high cost of road haulage has led Uganda to shift most of its vital coffee exports and oil imports to the railroad. President Yoweri Museveni ordered the switch two years ago, Neither has direct rail links to the coast and most of their freight is trucked, much of it through Uganda.

Shortages of serviceable locomotives and wagons on Tanzania's railway has caused a major backlog of Ugandan imports in Dar es Salaam and serious delays in moving the country's coffee exports.

That is why Uganda — to say nothing of Rwanda, Burundi and Zaire -- remains committed to rehabilitating the northern corridor road and rail system. Programme^{*}

Over the past two years, Uganda has embarked on a crash programme of roadworks. It has repaired 430 km (260 miles) of paved roads and 2,300 km (1,400 miles) of gravel roads during the financial year which ended in

It plans to spend a further $20 million over the next two years, completing the key Kampala-Jinja link and upgrading the road from Kampala to Masaka in the southwest.

The World Bank and Western governments are studying a $150-million plan to repair the railway from Kampala to Kasese in western Uganda which has been flooded and closed for the past month.

Aid Despite massive injections of foreign aid, transport is likely to remain a chronic problem.

"They got money to rehabilitate roads, but roads that were done two years ago are already falling apart...they simply have no money for maintenance," said a Western diplomat. The northern corridor is also dogged by administrative

Bush: long on experience, short on new ideas

WASHINGTON, (Reuter): George Bush, a self-styled Texan with Yankee aristocrat roots, who was elected the 41st president of the United States on Tuesday, prepared for the presidency with a quarter-cen-tury in politics, long government service and eight years' appren-ticeship to Ronald Reagan.

This seasoning in hardknuckle politics may prove to have been the biggest 1988 campaign asset for the trim, 64-yearold vice-president. He started out well behind Democrat Michael Dukakis but attacked him aggressively in what many consider the nastiest US presidential contest in modern

He mixed attacks on Dukakis with claims that his own experience in the White House. the CIA and other power centres qualified him uniquely to lead America into the 1990s as Reagan's successor.

In campaign speeches, interviews and debates, he said he would cut huge federal deficits, seen by many Americans as the nation's most pressing problem, through a vaguely-defined "flexible freeze" on government spending. Pressures

He promised voters that, regardless of deficit-cutting pressures, there would be no new taxes. He vowed to lead a renais-sance of US education and to clean up the environment.

And he pledged to press on with arms control talks with the Soviet Union, placing new stress on cutting conventional forces and achieving a global ban on chemical weapons.

"Bush knows more about the inner workings of government than Reagan does," a White House official said. "He will take generally the same track but be a better manager." Bush's victory, however, may leave a bitter aftertaste among voters repelled by the ugly tone of the campaign.

Bush, who accepted the Republican nomination vowing to make America a "kinder, gentler nation," hammered Massachusetts governor Dukakis day after day as a big-spending. big-taxing liberal, weak on defence, crime and drugs.

He ridiculed Dukakis as "a card-carrying member" of the American Civil Liberties Union, as if that were something to be He scolded his rival for opposing compulsory recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance in Massachusetts schools, a taunt that appeared to call the governor's patriotism into question. Dukakis in turn slammed Bush as an elitist champion of the rich. He accused him of fatally flawed judgement and cited his choice of Indiana Senator Dan Quayle as a running mate, his support for the Iran arms sale and his contacts with Panama's Manuel Antonio Noriega, under drug indictment in the United States. He said Bush lied about the Dukakis record. For eight years Bush was the loyal number two to a president who had led a modern conservative revival in US politics. An athletic and youthfullooking man, he is fond of jogging, fishing and fast boats. Although his official voting address is Houston, his favoured retreat is a sprawling oceanside vacation home in fashionable Kennebunkport, Maine. He was born into a socialite New England family of great wealth and position — his father was Connecticut Senator Prescott Bush — but also became a millionaire in his own right in the west Texas oilfields after World War II.

Ambassador

Before serving as vice-president, he had been a US ambassador to the United Nations, envoy to China, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, Congressman from Texas and Republican Party chairman.

But it was the vice-presidency and the association with Reagan that launched him toward his ultimate goal.

Unlike most other presidents, who thought vice-presidents were best ignored, Reagan gave Bush a number of highly visible and significant diplomatic questions come.

The son of an investment banking heiress and a Wall Street financier who became a US senator, Bush spent much of his youth in Greenwich, Connecticut, a prosperous New York city suburb, and at the summer home in Maine. He attended exclusive private schools and graduated from Yale University with highest honours in economics in 1948. He also captained the Yale baseball

In World War II, he left school at the age of 18 to become the Navy's voungest aviator. Flying off aircraft carriers in the Pacific, he won America's second-highest award for valour - the Distinguished Flying Cross - and was shot down at sea.

Bush's crewmates were killed. but he was rescued when a US submarine outraced a Japanese patrol boat and plucked him from the water. A crew member photographed the rescue, a film that later proved invaluable in Bush's political campaigns. After the war, he rejected a Wall Street job and moved to Texas where he started an oil drilling firm that made him a millionaire. He began his climb to national prominence by winning elections to the House of Representatives from Texas in 1966 and 1968. But he failed in two bids at a Texas senate seat, beaten once by rising young Democrat Lloyd Bentsen - vice-presidential candidate on the 1988 Democratic ticket.

Hard-line

In his Texas campaigns, Bush often voiced hard-line conservative views, including opposition to the landmark 1964 Civil Rights Act that banned racial discrimination in public facilities, and the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty. But as a Congressman he angered many of his conservative backers by voting for a bill designed to end discrimination in housing.

He also supported the Viet-nam war effort, catching the eye of President Richard Nixon who named him ambassador to the United Nations in 1971. Two years later, Nixon named Bush to be Republican Party chairman, a hot seat in an era when the Watergate scandal was mushrooming into a nightmare that drove Nixon out of office.

Some felt Bush carried party loyalty too far, backing Nixon's protestations of innocence late into the affair.

After Nixon's resignation in 1974, Bush was selected by President Ford to head the US liaison office in China in 1974-75 and then to direct the scandalplagued CIA-in 1976-77.

He was credited with reforming the CIA and rebuilding its morale when it was reeling from disclosures that it had spied on American citizens at home and backed assassination plots against such foreign leaders as Cuba's Fidel Castro.

Married for 43 years to Barbara Pierce, who comes from a prominent US publishing family, Bush has five children and is a grandfather of 10.

Although unable to match President Reagan's 49-state landslide, the President-elect chalked up an impressive triumph. But political experts say he may yet be forced to pay for a negative and issueless campaign that took him to the White House without a clear policy mandate and that the honeymoon traditionally accorded new Presidents may be short for him.

country's domestic policy agenda will be set by Congress, just as it was in the final years of Reagan's presidency when the legislators repeatedly ignored the chief executive's desires. According to congressional quarterly, Reagan's position prevailed on just 43.5 per cent of roll-call votes in 1987, the last year for which figures have been compiled. It was the first time in 25 years a President lost more than he won. Reagan won on 82 per cent of roll call votes in 1981, his first year in office, after a campaign in which he set forth a specific agenda with a vow to cut taxes and raise defence spending. Bush's ties to the popular Reagan, who will leave office with the highest approval rating of any President since Dwight Eisenhower 28 years ago, were instrumental to his victory.

Polls showed Bush's popularity moving in tandem with his political patron's throughout the campaign. Democrats must search for their future By Steve Gerstel

WASHINGTON, (UPI): In the drab dawn of defeat, the search for their future. They failed to find tomorrow with Michael Dukakis in 1988.

For the Republicans, the answer for the 1992 election is easy. President Bush, barring some completely unforeseen circumstances such as poor health, will run for re-election.

And, unless the United States spirals into a depression, the once-alleged wimp will be a far more formidable nominee running from the White House as an incumbent.

For the Democrats, however, finding the man or woman, the region, the politics, the ability to campaign is a puzzle that will test the finest minds the party can muster.

Defeat

Despite the chants of "92, '92" that sounded through the hall when Dukakis conceded defeat, his election day thrashing put the three-term Massachusetts governor on the shelf. He has earned a spot up there with George McGovern, Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale in the hall of fame of Democratic

High hopes for the festive season

DIWALI and Dusserah are one of the most important festivals in India bringing in the spirit of fun and celebration. Film producers also prepare their more ambitions projects to release them in time for Diwali, which is celebrated all over India by all communities and creeds. Morever, it is also the time when schools and colleges have a short vacation, and thus more time for films. Christmas and New Year are not far behind.

This year, too, many films have been lined up for the last two months of the year and many heroes are in the race to gain high popularity with the public. The biggest film (at least by way of size and cost) is Man-mohan Desai's Gaaga. Saraswati, with Jamuna, Amitabh, Mithun, Jaya Prada.

It is Amitabh's second release after the debacle of Skahenshah and thus an acid test for him. Desai confidently predicts that: "this film of mine will beat Amar, Akbar, Anthony and score much more.'

One cannot be sure of that, since it does not have three heroes, but only two heroes and one peroine in the title, and the other heroine is left dangling in the air. But one is never sure about magician Manmohan. He can turn heroes into parrots and conjure double and triple

Among other escapist films with stars and frills are Main Tera Dushman, Vardi, Gharana, Santosh, Billoo Badshah and Agnee to be followed by many others.

Main Tera Dushman is a typical South Indian pot pourri directed by Vijay Reddi for the Midas man K.C. Bokadia. Jackie Shroff will be trying his luck, perhaps for the last time, and he has tough competition from Sunny, Jaya Prada and even Sridevi, all in the same film. It is also in direct contrast to Desai's movie, with the female side stronger Umesh Mehra's Vardi is loosely based on An Officer & A Gentleman; with Jackie and Sunny as rivals for Kimi's love, with Madhuri in the second role and papa Dharm provid-ing a boost for Sunny with a special appearance. Gharana and Billoo Badshah are typical family tales of joys and sorrows. K. Ravi Shankar's Gharana has Rishi Kapoor, Meenakshi, Govinda, Neelam and Jaya Prada in a guest role. Billoo Badshah is Shatrughan Sinha's one-man show aided by Anita Raj, Govinda, Neelam and also Archna Joglekar as the haughty new daughter-in-law who upsets'the even keel of the middle class family. J. Om Prakash's Agnee has star power with the likes of Mithun Amrita Singh, Chunky, Mandakini and it is J. Om's bid to be on par with his more successful son-in-law Raakesh Roshan. If J. Om again fails, then perhaps there may be a split in the banners and offices they have been using jointly for years.

Threatening Also threatening to break new ground is old Manoj's latest film Santosh which has taken eleven years to complete. This time, the patriot hero has turned into a trade union leader. The story has a woman deserting her husband and son for money and power. The son becomes an idealist who fights for workers' rights, while he is betrayed by his own brother. Love and songs are of course mixed through the roles of Indrajeet, Rudra, Hum, Ghar Ka Bhedi, Mahakaal, Aalishan, Tiger, Baghi and untitled films of half a dozen producers.

Dharmendra comes close to Amit, with more films but not chosen so selectively. Among his big ones are Hathyar, Batwara, Ganga Tere Desh Mein, Hamlaa, Jagira, Naakabandi, Sherdil, Sikka, Mast Qalandar, Kaun Kare Kurbani, Nafrat Ki Aandhi, Shehzade & Farishte. From the old era heroes, Jeetendra is also surviving on the same level. He is banking a lot on New Delhi which is an off-beat film due for release. But he has plenty of commercial ones too, like Mar Mitenge Mulzim, Nafrat Ki Aandhi Sahara, Daav Pech, Hasti Mita Dunga, Jai Shiv Shankar, Kasam Vardi Ki, Souten Ki Beti, Asoolon Ki Jung, Aas-man Se Ooncha, Ranbhoomi, Zehreeley, Atal Irada, Antim Yudh and others. Mithun is the only one from the new age group who is bid-ding for the top with at least 25 active films. They include Aakhri Ghulam, Agnee, Agneepath, Bees Saal Baad, Daata, Dana Pani, Guru, Dharam Sankat, Gariboh Ka Daata, Hum Intezar Karenge Hum Se Na Takrana, Ilaaka, Jhooti Shaan, Mar Mitenge, Shandar, Galiyon Ka Bad-shah, Jung, Sadhu Sant, Yugandhar, Pyar Ka Karz, Prahar etc. Commanding a high price and fan following is of course Vinod Khanna. His imposing list has Batwara, Boss, Mahadeva, Marg, Lekin, Rakshak, Shatruta, Ustad, Surya, Farishte, Garjana, Surzameen, Zameen, Chamatkar, etc. These heroes are followed by the many films held by Shatrughan Sinha, Anil Kapoor, Sunjay Dutt, Govinda, Rishi Kapoor, Raj Babbar, Chunky and a few others. Star dates are so rare to get that producers are frantically Dimpi Dayal Aaditya's dates with so much difficulty that he published the list in an advertisement. In this manner the second hero (the first is Mithun) would have to commit himself and other producers would be warned not to touch these dates from November 1988 to August 1989. The Producers' Association has also noted it. Now if Aaditya goes back on his word Dimpi may go to court. And all this for a new actor and a supporting hero. Some time back Govinda's dates were causing equally big headaches.

R.K.'s Heens may run into trouble in the long run, if reports are to be believed that Randhir and Rishi are not get-ting along well. After the initial zeal for doing the film, Randhir again fell back on heavy drinking. This was not approved by Rishi who believes in work discipline. When Raj Kapoor was alive, Randhir used to get a salary of rupees ten thousand per month plus free shopping on a credit card. But now that he almost owns the whole property, Randhir may go

"I think I've got it," he exclaimed.

"What is that?" "I just made an appointment with my daughter. I haven't been able to see her for two months, but she informed me that she could fit me in at 6 o'clock on Thursday." 'That's neat," I said.

"How did you do it?" "It wasn't easy. I kept leaving messages at her dorm saying that I would be grateful to simply meet with her and talk over hov things were going.

"The first time she turned me down was because she was going to Vermont to look at the leaves. The second time she actually made a date with me, but then canceled it as she had been invited to wash her boyfriend's car. And three weeks ago, she called to say that she couldn't see me on her birthday because she wanted to enter a 26-mile marathon where you could meet a lot of neat guys."

'How can you be sure that she will show up for the appointment she's made now?" I wanted to know.

"You're a lucky man, Beeman," one of the group said. "I haven't been able to arrange a meeting with my son for two years. He's one busy fellow.

"They all are," Beeman said. "And you can't fault them for refusing to put us on their calendars. You know what's really funny. I wanted to talk to George Shultz the other day, and it was arranged in an hour. I called Lee Iacocca and he said he would see me as soon as I arrived. Its been like that all month. The only one I am unable to make contact with is my own flesh and blood."

"What are you planning to talk about when you do see her?" I inquired.

"I am going to ask her if she loves me. And if she says she does, I'll start to wonder why she doesn't answer the calls I leave on her answering machine. I'll try to find out if I'm the father she really wanted."

"I wouldn't do that." one of the men said. "You'll only make her feel guilty.'

Beeman remarked, "If I could make her feel guilty I would consider our meeting a big success."
"Have you decided what

"Seeing your daughter isn't everyday occurrance, and you should at least be dressed for it."

"I'm not applying for a job," Beeman yelled.
"Don't get so excited.
There are five of us at this table and, if you added it all up, we haven't seen our children for a total of 90 years."

Beeman said, "I'm sorry. guys, I don't want you to think I've got it made. Just because my daughter gave me this appointment doesn't mean she'll give another one. If she gets a better offer she will cancel this date just like that."

"If she did, would you take away her school allowance?"

Of course not. What kind of father takes away his daughter's allowance iust because she doesn't return his calls?" Los Angeles Times Syndicate

BUYING books can be a problem for the expatriate: not only, are good bookshops few and far between in many countries, but the prices they ask for their books are often prohibitive.

One becomes accustomed to paying over the odds for a wide range of products while living overseas — and, conversely, to paying relatively low prices for some consumer goods — but when the dinar, dirham, or riyal price on a book is more than twice the original UK or US cover price one can't help feeling that someone, somewhere, is making more than a reasonable level of profit.

After ali, books — unlike newspapers and periodicals do not need to be airfreighted and, as anyone who has ever had occasion to ship personal effects from one country to another will know, sea freight rates (based on volume rather than weight) can be surprising-

In short, nobody has ever nanaged to convince me that shipping costs justify the high price of books in the bookshops in the Middle East.

There can certainly be no question of high staff salaries being used as a justification for the doubling of a cover price: even in the UK, where many bookshop staff are university graduates, levels of pay in this sector have traditionally been very low. Moreover, many of the bookshop staff I veen countered in the Middle East were certainly not of graduate calibre - some, I suspect, were not even literate.

I recall one occasion in Dubai when, totally confused by the apparent lack of organisation on a bookshop's shelves, I thought I'd test the system by asking for the works of some reasonably well-known author.

"Shakespeare?" the assistant repeated uncertainly; "I don't know." This, as it turned out, was a masterpiece of understatement: it wasn't merely a case of his not knowing where the Shakespeare was to be found; he'd never even heard of Shakespeare and the limit of his knowledge of English was the phrase he'd used on me - "I don't know.

So what was he doing working in an English language bookshop then, you're probably wondering? Well, of course, the appears when I would be the source. the answer — when I pursued the matter — was obvious: he was someone's cousin.

(Which reminds me of the case of a manager who, deputising for a colleague who was on leave, seized the opportunity to sack an entire group of workers and replace them with what must have been virtually every able-bodied male in his own village!)

Before arriving in the Gulf I'd always bought a couple of books every week but, in the end, the high prices of the Gulf's bookshops drove me to that most estimable of institutions — the British Council

Quite apart from the cost of books and the difficulty of finding your way around the shelves, there is also the matter of selection. Some Gulf bookshops always seem to be full of the remainders of the world's most obscure publishing com-

There is no doubt that some pretty sharp salesmen have managed to dump some real worst sellers in the Gulf over the years — particularly in the non-fiction field.

Think of the most comically arcane title you can imagine and it's a safe bet that the book really does exist and that copies of it have been gathering dust on the shelves of a Gulf bookshop for years.

Extreme At the other extreme, a bookshop may find itself lumbered with books that it could sell but daren't: I recall one instance where a Gulf bookshop found itself with several thousand pornographic paperbacks on its hands. There was no question of selling them - these were of the proverbial "clinically explicit" type - and the bookshop manager was at a loss to know what to do with them. Having taken delivery of the books, the shop was stuck with them: it couldn't sell them - long jail sentences and sound thrashings all round would be the likely outcome of any such attempt - but nor could it simply throw them away.

All it would need would be for some curious fellow to go realing around the ruspish skip and then the books would soon be discovered and go into circulation. Caught, as it were, between the devil and the deep blue sea, the bookshop manager settled for keeping the boxes full of porn in the spare bedroom in his flat. Eventually, however, deciding that this was too risky, he resolved to get rid of the contraband for once and for all. Accordingly, one dark night two of the bookshop staff were dispatched into the desert in a car creaking under the weight of hundreds of pornographic paperbacks. Their mission was to find a secluded hollow somewhere in the dunes and there to make a bonfire of the evidence. The problem was, of course, that while newspapers and other loose paper burn easily enough, boxes full of books are less fiammable: despite all their nervous efforts, the pile of books simply would not burn. Had they taken the time to tear a few dozen pages into little bits and get a good blaze going the books might have burned, but in their nervousness they kept trying to start the fire with the barest minimum of kin-pushed all the books into it. The hole was filled in and then they quickly drove back across the desert to the road and then slunk back into town.

So, to this day, somewhere buried in the dunes outside a Gulf city, there is a cache of the most lurid pornographic literature just waiting to be discovered. Who knows, perhaps in years to come the books may be discovered, causing archaeologists to hotly debate the significance of such an extraordinary find.

T've often wondered how it was that the sale of such magazines ever came to be permitted in a Gulf state and who the target customers were. Since the vast majority of people flying from or transiting the airport must have been totally unaware of the magazine's availability the volume of sales can't have been very high in any case, but were the purchasers expatriate business nationals or perhaps Bangkokbound roisterers looking for something to whet their appetites whilst en-route to the fleshpots of Thailand?

One thing is for sure: since many purchasers must have abandoned the magazines on the aircraft, not wanting to try to get them past the customs at whatever Gulf airport they were flying to, passengers boar-ding flights in the Gulf must have occasionally found the reading matter stuffed into the seat back pouches startlingly different to the normal in-flight fare of articles about falcons, dhows and camel races. burry to commit himself. He won the opening lead with dummy's ace, and ruffed a diamond high. Three rounds of trumps, ending on the table, drew all the opposing cards and revealed that East had been void of that suit. Declarer ruffed dummy's last diamond, then ran the jack of clubs. East took his ace and returned a club, declarer discarding two spaces on dummy's club winners.

When East showed out on the third club, his distribution was known: 4-0-7-2. It might seem, therefore, that the percentage play in spades was to lead the jack for a finesse, playing for the spade king to be with the length. But that was impossible—East would never have preempted holding seven diamonds to the 100 honors, four spades to the king and an ace; he would have opened one diamond. So South played for his only chance. He banged down the ace of spades in the hope that West's singleton would be the king, and great was his

Saudi Arabia, Texaco to sign refining deal

LONDON, Nov 9, (Reuter): Saudi Arabia and Texaco, the third largest US oil company, have finalised an $800-million oil refining deal and will sign it in London tomorrow, spokesmen said today.

Under the joint venture agreement, Aramco Services Corp acting on behalf of the Saudis, will buy a half-stake in Texaco's refining and marketing system in the US eastern and Gulf coast regions.

The 50-50 partnership will give Saudi Arabia, the world's largest oil exporter, access to the world's largest retail gasoline market.

Deal

The deal was announced in June and was welcomed by Washington. A department of energy spokesman said at the time it was "a vote of confidence for our free market economic policy."

Spokesmen for both sides said today the Saudis will provide three-quarters of the initial oil inventory, estimated at 30 million barrels of crude oil and products.

World Business Summary

Saudi Arabian exports up

JEDDAH, Nev 9, (OPECNA): Saudi Arabian exports went up by 16 per cent to over $23 billion during fiscal 1987-88. According to a Saudi Arabian Monetary Agency (SAMA) report. The report released here on Monday said the kingdom's trade surplus rose from $1.06 billion in 1986 to $3.73 billion marking "the first positive growth" in the last three years. The agency attributed from abroad for domestic investment and the rise in private eapitul from abroad for domestic investment and the rise in private sector exports. The report said non-oil exports maintained their upward trend, rising by 25 per cent to $2.51 billion. The industrial and agricultural sectors were reported to have registered gains dowing the year, with wheat production at 2.50 million tons, burley at 250,000 tons. The industrial sector brought in more than $2.13 billion in foreign exchange. In money and banking, SAMA said the increase recorded was 5.4 per cent or $2.29 billion, while currency in circulation and bank deposits accounted for about 15 and 85 per cent respectively of the total increase in money supply during the year. Commercial banks, which opened 37 new branches in the kingdom this year, increased their foreign assets by $4.13 billion to $27.28 billion and their foreign liabilities by $2.72 billion to $6.54 billion.

NNPC signs petrochemicals pact

LAGOS, Nov 9, (OPECNA): The Nigerian National Petroleum Corporation (NNPC) signed an agreement on Monday with Du Pont of Canada on the construction of a polyethylene plant under the second phase of the Nigerian petrochemical complex. The plant, to be sited in Eleme, will cost $1 billion, about 80 per cent of which is expected to be obtained in loans from the World Bank as well as local and foreign private investors, the Inter-Press Service (IPS) news agency reported.

wen as local and foreign private investors, the liner-Press Service (IPS) news agency reported.

Petroleum Resources Minister Alhaji Rilwann Lukman, who signed on behalf of NNPC, said market studies had shown that local demand would be adequately met by the various grades of polyethylene to be produced at the plant. Under the agreement, Du Pont will make its linear polyethylene technology available to Nigeria. Meanwhile, NNPC has also signed a "licence agreement" with the Institut Francais Du Petrole for Butene-1 technology required for the manufacture of linear low-density polyethylene. Lukman said the signing of both agreements marked "a significant milestone in Nigeria's drive to the petrochemical world."

Tulip trade still growing after 400 years

HILLEGOM, The Netherlands, Nov 9, (Reuter): When business gets hectic on the Amsterdam Stock Exchange, dealers might be heard talking about 'Tulip

They are referring to an extraordinary 17th century episode known as Tulip mania, when speculation in Tulip bulbs became so frenzied in the Netherlands that fortunes were made and lost in a day.

Tulips, national symbol of the Netherlands, are still big business in this country, the world's largest producer and exporter of flower bulbs.

Image

This year the country grew about nine billion bulbs and with an 80 per cent share of the world, export market, it earned almost one billion guilders ($500 million) from sales abroad.

"Tulips are a useful symbol for boosting our country's image abroad, but they also make a significant contribution to the national economy," said Robert van Waveren, president of the International Flowerbulb Centre, which promotes the sale of Dutch bulbs in more than 100

As bulb production increases at home, more than doubling in the last 15 years, Dutch exporters are keenly looking for new outlets beyond their traditional market base in Europe and the United States.

Soviets in new soybean meal purchase

WASHINGTON, Nov 9, (AP): The Soviet Union has purchased an additional 300,000 metric tons of US soybean meal for delivery this marketing year, the Agriculture Department announced yesterday.

The Soviets last week purchased 535,000 metric tons of soybean meal and 250,000 tons of soybeans for delivery in the 1988-89 marketing year, which started Oct 1. Further details were not released by the department.

But the sale could have a value of more than $67 million, based on average US government estimates of around $225 per ton in the current marketing year.

Iran, China sign pact on industrial co-operation

TEHRAN, Nov 9, (OPECNA): Iran and China signed a letter of understanding on industrial cooperation here yesterday incorporating the design, engineering and manufacture of equipment for refineries, power stations, ports and jetties.

The agreement, which also calls for production of industrial parts and exchange of raw materials, was signed by Chinese deputy Minister of Machine Building, Electronics and Industries Gaous Ming Sheng and Iranian deputy Industries Minister Mehr Alizadeh.

Under the accord, the two countries will co-operate in the joint manufacture of drilling equipment, paper manufacturing machinery, compressed reservoirs and boilers for sugar factories.

Meanwhile, a Chinese delegation of mineral and industrial experts arrived here yesterday to study mineral and geological cooperation between the two countries. However some countries, such as Australia, are proving insensitive to the charms of bulbs.

The Australians ban all foreign plants for fear of imported viruses and would not accept a gift of lower bulbs from Dutch Queen Beatrix when she recently visited their country.

The Dutch, also the world's number-one sellers of cut flowers, cultivate at least 1,000 bulb varieties, including Gladioli, Lilies, Daffodils and Hyacinths.

But by far the most import crop is the Tulip, crown in every colour, shape and size on nearly half the country's 16,000 hectares (40,000 acres) of bulb fields. Few bulbous plants originate in the Netherlands. The Tulip was brought to Europe from Turkey in the 16th century.

It is generally believed that the Osulb coom has its roots in the 1590s, when Carolus Clusius, professor of botany at Leiden University, first planted a Tulip in the Netherlands.

erianos. Popular

The bulbs thrived in the sandy soil along the North Sea coast between Leiden and Haarlem, a narrow strip of land about 50 km (30 miles) long which is still the centre of the Dutch bulb indus-

By the early 1600s Tulips had become a popular luxury for the wealthy Dutch merchant classes and a lively trade in the bulbs began.

"Holland was a very rich country then, and people had the time and money to spend on flowers," explained Van Waveren.

As the passion for Tulips spread across Northern Europe, prices soared with the rarest types fetching thousands of gold florins for a single bulb.

Fashionable ladies in Paris sewed Tulip petals on their dresses instead of costly jewels, while in Holland a bulb sprouting red and white striped flowers sold for today's equivalent of $5,000 plus a horse and carriage.

Dreams

"The Dutch bulb growers had succeeded beyond their wildest dreams, they had created a 'national chelle," writes historian. Simon Schama in a recent study of 17th century Dutch culture.

At the height of the Tulip mania, between 1634 and 1637, the flowers themselves were often irrelevant as dealers began trading in Bulb Futures, buying and selling paper contracts for future deliveries.

The pace of dealing became so hectic, with prices sometimes doubling in a day, that the government intervened and restored sanity by prohibiting all speculative trade in bulbs.

London Stock Market Report

U.K. SHARES CLOSING NEAR DAY'S LOWS, TRADING DULL LONDON, NOV 9, REUTER - SHARES WERE CLOSE TO THEIR LOWS ON THE DAY IN DULL AFTERNOON BUSINESS, GIVING UP MOST OF THE GAINS SCORED YESTERDAY IN ANTICIPATION THAT GEORGE BUSH WOULD WIN THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION, DEALERS SAID.
THE BUSH VICTORY PROMPTED PROFIT-TAKING AND BY 1534 GMT THE FTSE 100 MAS DOWN 17.2 TO 1,823.4 AFTER A LOW OF 1,820.1. YESTERDAY IT WAD GAINED 20.9 POINTS.

*PEOPLE WERE EXPECTING A REPUBLICAN WIN, BUT TODAY'S ACTION SHOWS THE MARKET NOW WANTS SOME SIGNS THAT BUSH CAN MAKE IMPROADS ON THE U.S. BUDGET AND TRADE DEFICITS, "ONE DEALER SAID. FAILURE

TO DO SO COULD WEAKEN THE DOLLAR FURTHER, HE ADDED. CONTINUING WORRY ABOUT THE MEAK DOLLAR HAS UNDERMINED WALL STREET RECENTLY AND COULD DEPRESS WALL STREET FURTHER WITH

NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES FOR LONDON. SOME OBSERVERS THINK THE FEDERAL RESERVE COULD TIGHTEN POLICY TO SUPPORT THE CURRENCY, WHICH WOULD LIFT U.S. TREASURY BOND YIELDS. THIS WOULD HAVE A KNOCK-ON EFFECT ON THE U.K. GOVERNMENT BOND (GILT) MARKET AND EFFECTIVELY CAUSE A DOWNHARDS REVALUATION OF THE EQUITY MARKET.

"IF GILT YIELDS RISE FOR WHATEVER REASON CASH WILL BE PULLED OUT OF EQUITIES AND THE MARKET WILL FALL," A TRADER SAID. EQUITY INVESTMENT HAS ALREADY BEEN HIT BY HIGH U.K. INTEREST RATES.

London Gold

LONDON, NOV 9, REUTER - GOLD BULLION PRICES CONTINUED TO PUSH HIGHER DURING LATE AFTERNOON TRADING, AS RENEWED WEAKNESS IN THE DOLLAR AND FIRMNESS IN NEW YORK FUTURES ENSURED A CLOSE AT THE DAY'S HIGHS, DEALERS SAID.

GOLD ENDED AT 422.80/423.30 DLRS AN OLNCE, UP FROM AN

OPENING 419.40/419.80 AND LAST NIGHT'S CLOSE OF 418.20/418.70

TODAY'S WEAKNESS IN THE DOLLAR IN THE WAKE OF THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION OFFSET THE DISINFLATIONARY IMPLICATIONS OF LOWER OIL PRICES. CONSEQUENTLY, GOLD MOVED BACK UP INTO ITS RECENT 420/425 DLR TECHNICAL RANGE, THEY SAID.

London Money Market

LONDON, NOV 9, REUTER - MONEY MARKET INTEREST RATES CONTINUED LITTLE CHANGED IN LATE TRADING, AS THE MARKET WAS UNAFFECTED BY THE DECISIVE VICTORY OF REPUBLICAN GEORGE BUSH IN THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

SHORY-TERM ATTENTION WILL RETURN TO DOMESTIC FACTORS. TRADERS ARE BRACING FOR A FLURRY OF U.K. ECONOMIC INDICATORS NEXT WEEK WHICH INCLUDE PRODUCER PRICES, MONEY SUPPLY AND BANK

LENDING, AND AVERAGE EARNINGS FIGURES.
STERLING WAS 0.2 UP ON ITS TRADE-WEIGHTED INDEX AT 76.9. IT GAINED AGAINST A WEAK DOLLAR BUT WAS LOWER AGAINST THE MARK. THE KEY THREE MONTH INTERBANK RATE WAS STEADY AT 12-3/16 1/8 PCT.

Wall Street Market Report

New York, Nov 9, (Reuter): Wall Street stocks remained lower but were regaining some of their early losses. Daiwa senior trader Carlos Roman said, "The market is looking good. Traders tried to take it down in early trading, but didn't succeed and pulled back.

Analysts generally said selling related to a drop in US bonds and the dollar, and profit-taking on George Bush's win of the presidency. The Dow was off two at 2125 and gainers were closing the lead by declining issues. Trading remained subdued. Roman expected stocks to turn higher.

Tokyo Stock Market Report

TOKYO STOCKS CLOSE HIGHER AFTER BUSH WIN TOKYO, MOV 9, REITER - SHARE PRICES EMDED THE DAY HIGHER AFTER THE MARKET'S FAVOURED CHOICE, GEORGE BUSH, WON THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION, BROKERS SAID.

"AS BUSH GAINED POINTS, WE ROLLED ALONG WITH IT," SAID A

TRADER AT YAMAICHI SECURITIES CO LTD. "BUSH WON AND MOST INVESTORS WERE EXPECTING THAT. IT WAS NOT REALLY A SURPRISE," HE SAID.

THE NIKKEI INDEX ROSE 205.51 POINTS, OR 0.73 PCT, TO 28,212.78. IT PUT ON 140.91 POINTS ON TUESDAY. A MODERATE 1.2 BILLION SHARES CHANGED HANDS TODAY AGAINST 900 MLN ON THESDAY.

"BUSH, MORE THAN DUKAKIS, CONSTITUTES LESS OF CHANGE," SAID HARLO NAKAHARU, A VICE PRESIDENT OF RESEARCH AT PRODENTIAL-BACHE SECURITIES (JAPAN) LTD.

THE REPUBLICAN IS ALSO PERCEIVED AS LESS PROTECTIONIST ON TRADE ISSUES THAN DEMOCRAT MICHAEL DUKAKIS, A REASON INVESTORS BOUGHT EXPORT-ORIENTED HIGH TECHNOLOGY STOCK TODAY AND TUESDAY. BUT THEY SOLD OFF SOME OF THESE LATER IN THE DAY ON A SLIGHT MEAKENING OF THE DOLLAR AND EXPECTATIONS THAT THE CURRENCY COULD FALL FURTHER, AND INSTEAD BOUGHT A VARIETY OF OTHER STOCK.

RISING ISSUES LED DECLINERS BY ABOUT SEVEN TO FIVE. ADVANCES WERE LED BY SECURITIES HOUSE, NON-LIFE INSURANCE, BANK, PULP/PAPER, GAS, COMMUNICATIONS, AIRLINE, RAILWAY/BUS, ROLLING STOCK AND CONSTRUCTION SHARES. THE DECLINING SECTORS WERE PHARMACEUTICAL, ELECTRICAL. FISHERY, PRECISION INSTRUMENT, RETAIL, CREDIT/LEASE, STEEL AND TRUCKING STOCK.

THE BROADER FIRST SECTION INDEX ROSE A HEALTHY 24.78 POINTS TO 2,170.51 AFTER A 16.29-POINT GAIN ON TUESDAY. "EVERYTHING'S BROADENED OUT ON THE BUSH WIN," SAID A BROKER. A MAJOR BROKERAGE WAS AN AGGRESSIVE BUYER TODAY, ESPECIALLY IN FINANCIALS, BROKERS SAID.

Hong Kong Market Report

HONG KONG, NOV 9, RELITER - THE MARKET CLOSED WEAKER AS SHORT-TERM PROFIT-TAKING ERODED EARLY HIGHS INSPIRED BY GEORGE BUSH'S U.S. PRESIDENTIAL VICTORY IN THIN TRADE, BROKERS SAID. THE HANG SENG INDEX FINISHED 4.04 POINTS DOWN FROM TUESDAY'S 2,587.02 CLOSE AFTER REACHING A HIGH OF 2,604.47. THE BROADER-BASED HONG KONG INDEX EDGED DOWN 3.03 TO

BROKERS DESCRIBED TURNOVER OF 638.83 HLM H.K. DLRS AS UNINSPIRING EVEN THOUGH IT TOPPED TUESDAY'S 403.63 MLM. "THE MARKET BREACHED THE 2,600 RESISTANCE POINT BUT WAS UNABLE TO CONSOLIDATE ABOVE THAT LEVEL, " ONE TRADER SAID.

Kuwait dinar deposit rates seesaw, end lower

KUWAIT. Nov 9, (Reuter): Kuwaiti dinar deposit rates seesawed today but closed mostly below yesterday levels in fairly active trading, dealers said.

800

They said dollar selling early in the day boosted liquidity and sent overnight rates plunging to as low as three per cent from yesterday highs of 10 per cent. But by early afternoon they had swung back to six per cent deals.

Tomorrow-next business rose to eight per cent from five per cent early in the day and 7-1/2 per cent yesterday. One-week traded at 7-1/2 per cent from yesterday's eight per cent.

In quiet trading the fixed dates were up to 1/2 point below yesterday levels at 7-1/4, seven per cent for the one-month, 7-1/8, 6-5/8 per cent for the two and threemonth, and seven, 6-1/2 per cent for the six-month. One-month business was reported at 7-1/4 per cent.

Surged

The dollar surged against the dinar following the victory of US Vice-President George Bush in presidential elections. But after opening at 0.28127/37 to the dollar from yesterday's 0.28026/ 36, the Central Bank dinar exchange rate was twice adjusted firmer to 0.28122/32 and 0.28117/27.

Commercial banks quoted spot rates of around 0.28127/37. Meanwhile, Saudi riyal deposit rates rose further in an active and nervous market today as traders bought dollars against the Saudi currency amid growing speculation of a riyal devaluation by end-1988.

Dealers said activity focussed on swaps as banks bought dollars in the forward market to cover themselves against the anticipated move, which would boost the value of the kingdom's dollar-denominated oil reve-

"Everyone is buying dollars outright — the market is getting panicky," one dealer said. The spot riyal eased to 3.7514/17 to the dollar from quotes of 3.7504/ 07 on Tuesday.

Trend

Riyal deposit rates have shot up during the past two weeks as offshore and kingdom banks began to speculate against a possible devaluation. Dealers said corporate customers had joined the dollar-buying trend, boosting demand for rival deposits in an already tight market.

Spot-next funds traded as high as 10-3/8 per cent, up from quotes of 9-3/8, nine on Tuesday. One-week also rose sharply to 10, 9-1/2 per cent.

Third World claims its concerns shunted at GATT talks

GENEVA, Nov 9, (AP): India and Nigeria accused rich countries yesterday of diverting current global talks on trade liberalisation away from areas of special concern to developing nations.

S P Shukla, India's ambassador to the annual top-level meeting under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. said negotiations on tropical products, textiles and clothing have not met Third World expectations.

"There has not been adequate response in the areas and subjects of the greatest interest and priority to developing countries. whereas in the so-called new areas, the major participants have continued to exert strong pressure," Shukla said in a midpoint assessment of the four-year round of trade talks, which began in late 1986.

Negotiation

Trade in services, an important topic for developed countries, is the major new area of negotiation in the current round of GATT talks.

Efforts to enforce the removal of existing trade barriers and prevent the imposition of new ones during the talks have "not really been effective," Shukla told the three-day gathering of members of the 197-nation pact that sets world trade rules.

He also urged a stronger commitment to preferred treatment for poor countries under GATT

Nigerian de Owoeye said, "The right of weaker nations to self-defense under the GATT system is being gradually eroded, and this negative development is giving rise to serious concerns among the developing countries."

But US representative Michael Samuels said exemptions from GATT obligations are "an old theology" that should not be encouraged.

"Experience has shown that trade liberalisation promotes rather than hinders economic growth and development," he told delegates.

Dollar drops sharply

Financial markets turn lower

Financial markets quietly cheered the US election victory of George Bush but then lost ground today as investors began to fret over a sharp drop in the dollar and economic problems facing the new president.

"There will be no honeymoon in the financial markets (for Bush) because what's troubling the markets transcends politics." said Allen Sinai of the Boston Company.

Tokyo stocks railied on the Bush win, but Wall Street opened lower and the Dow Jones Industrial Average was down slightly at mid-morning.

Gains The dollar fell two pfennigs to 1.7660 marks, giving up recent gains. The benchmark 30-year bond fell two-thirds of a point to 101.08 as its yieldrose to 9.00 per

While Bush, much favoured in the financial community, won strongly as expected over Michael Dukakis the Democrats retained control of both the Senate and House of Representatives. The split decision heightened political conflict might hurt oipartisan efforts to cut the huge US budget and trade deficits.

Earlier, Asian stock markets rallied on Bush's victory but London stocks fell after the dollar began to slide.

Pressure The pressure on the dollar pointed to the no-nonsense mood in the financial markets. where there is a feeling Bush must demonstrate a strong commitment to slashing the budget and trade deficits. 'The incoming administration needs to start reassuring the markets quickly about what they're going to do," said one dealer in London.

The strong showing by Democrats in the congressional elections, and Bush's vow to avoid new taxes, pointed to intense political conflict on key economic issues.

"The surprise politically was the increase strength of the Democrats in Congress," said Sinaj.

"There's a perception that Dukakis was anti-Wall Street and anti-big business," said Jon Groveman of Ladenburg Thalmann and Company. "So in that sense the stock market is better off. But there are still questions about how Bush can work with Congress. There are so many forces out there larger than one man who is elected president."

Victory

Since Wall Street believed. strongly that Bush would win the election and this had already been discounted, his victory gave no cause for a raily. But some saw his decisive win as a plus.

"As Bush gained points, we rolled along with it," said a trader at Yamaichi Securities Company Ltd in Tokyo, where the stock market closed higher with the Nikkei average up 205.51 points or 0.73 per cent to "Any celebration (over Bush's victory) will be very brief," said Newton Zinder of Shearson Lehman Hutton. "Then people will go back and worry about mun-dane things like inflation, interest rates, the dollar and federal reserve policy."

Larry Wachtel of Prudential-Bache Securities said: "The Dow range, and I don't see anything that happened in the election that's going to change that."

Ability

Wachtel said that in the aftermath of the election, the financial markets will assess Bush's ability to cut the budget deficit. "How he reduces the budget deficit is a key factor," he said.

During the election campaign the budget deficit was barely mentioned since it raised politically unpopular issues of raising taxes or cutting spending.

Groveman said that after the Bush victory is absorbed, investors will take a hard look at the US central bank to see if it tightens credit in reaction to recent signs that the US economy is strengthening.

Ironically, the strong economy buoyed Bush's election performance but now poses an inflation threat.

"People voted their pocketbook," said polling analyst Shel-don Gawiser of NBC, after the network found in exit polls that Bush benefitted from a feeling of economic well-being among Americans

calls for rate hike

A KUWAITI motor insurance company has called for a rate increase, saying that current premiums set by the Ministry of Interior amount to less than what a car owner spends each year to have his car washed.

The current tariffs have not been set with the client's safety in mind, said Elias Bedewi, technical consultant for Gulf Insurance Co.

Property damages insurance should be separate from death and bodily injury insurance he said. Property loss claims are easy and quick to settle, but injury claims require more time, effort and documentation.

Compensation Insurance rates here have been the same since January 1981 even though there are now more cars and more numerous and severe road accidents, he said. The court's awards of compensation have also increased, he added.

An alternative to increasing the existing tariff would be to have property damage insured separately at an additional premium, Bedewi said.

"If we go back to the annual cost of insurance, we notice that it does not reach the amount paid for a car wash over less than 12 months," he said. Out of about 650,000 cars nsured in Kuwait, more than 100,000 are insured with Gulf Insurance Co.

With an average annual premium for a family car at from third party motor vehicle insurance policies is about KD1.4 million. But this line of business costs the company over KD2.5 million in claims, Bedewi

Insurance company

Damage to cars due to coilisions should be surveyed immediately, assessed and sent for repair or the owner should be compensated for a total loss if the vehicle is irreparable or the expected cost of the repair exceeds the car's insured value.

There are cases where an insurance company has doubts about the cause of the accident and whether it falls under any of the policy exclusions. If the car was driven by someone who was drunk or without a valid licence instead of going to the police station for an investigation report on the spot, the driver settles the matter amicably with the other driver and reports the accident next day against an

Compromise

In such cases, the insurance company may repudiate liability altogether but, in the absence of evidence to support its decision, may offer a compromise set-tlement of 50 per cent of the actual cost of repairs, Bedewi

The main difference between Kuwait's insurance system and the American system is that here compensation follows courts zwards in most cases of death or bodily injuries. But in America the rating system (insurance premium) may change monthly.

State Bank of India presents an unprecedented investment opportunity for NON-RESIDENT INDIANS

NRI BONDS—1988

You have long been on the look out for an investment opportunity in India that ensures attractive returns. freedom from all tax liabilities in India and complete

NRI Bonds—1988 provide the answer.

NRI Bonds are 7 year cumulative U.S. $ denominated Bonds issued exclusively for Non-Resident Indians. Redemption on maturity will be in Indian Rupees. For convenience, the Bonds are in denominations of US $ 500, 1000, 5000 and 10000.

The Bonds are being issued by the State Bank of India, the country's largest commercial bank ranking among the top 100 banks in the world.

HIGHEST RETURN ON U.S. $ DENOMINATED FUNDS IN INDIA

The Bonds shall bear interest at 1% above the rate applicable to 3 year FCNR US S deposits in India, as on the date of opening of the issue of NRI Bonds. (At the prevailing 3 years FCNR 8 deposit rate of 10.5% p.a. the interest rate for Bonds works out to 11.5% p.a.) Interest will be compounded half yearly in U.S. S and will be payable along with the principal on maturity in Indian Rupees.

*11th October, 1988.

THE MONEY GROWS IN U.S. 8

The investment in NRI Bonds is fully protected against any likely loss in the exchange value of the Indian Rupee vis-a-vis the U.S. Dollar. Bonds will continue to be denominated in U.S. S till maturity—even if you become a resident in India, gift them away or transfer them to another NRL

EXEMPTION FROM INDIAN TAXES

The income on the Bonds is totally exempt from income-tax and wealth tax until their maturity. What is more, these concessions continue to be available even if you become a resident in India prior to maturity and are also available to the transferee(s), survivor(s) as well as the donee

EASY LIQUIDITY

PREMATURE ENCASHMENT FACILITY

Premature encashment of Bonds will be permitted on agreed terms and conditions after an initial lock-in period of 3 years. Thus investment is not only fully secured but after the initial lock-in period, it remains virtually on call.

LOAN FACILITY

Loan against the Bonds from banks in India would be available after the initial 3 year lock-in period.

EASY TRANSFERABILITY

The Bonds can be transferred by a simple procedure amongst NRis. No permissions, clearances whatsoever would be required from any authority in India.

AN EXCELLENT GIFT FOR NEAR AND DEAR ONES

NRI Bonds can be gifted to a close relative (even a resident Indian) after a lock-in period of 3 years without any Gift Tax.

With this instrument, it would be possible for you to provide for a dependent resident in India.

YOU MAY NEVER HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY LIKE THIS AGAIN

This instrument is suited to meet the needs and aspirations of Non-Resident Indians like you. And the procedures are very simple. There are no hassles at all. A simple form to fill and the Bonds will be allotted to you within 60 days of the closure of the issue. You can invest as much as you want. There is no ceiling. Applications have to be made in the prescribed application. Funds lying in FCNR/NRE Accounts in India may also be used for this purpose. You may apply in your own name or jointly with another NRI or jointly with a close relative resident in India with the arrangement for proceeds to be payable form and the full amount in US dollars is payable on

NRI BONDS-1988 FEATURES AT A GLANCE

- Attractive interest compounded half-yearly Exempt from income, wealth & gift taxes
- Easy transferability
- Protection against likely loss in exchange value of Indian rupee
- All benefits continue even on return to India ■ All benefits available to 'transferee' &
- donce' as well to former or survivor.

- Loan facility ■ Premature encashment facility
- Total security Joint holding facility
- Procedural simplicity

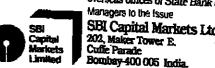

REMEMBER, EVEN AT THE CURRENT EXCHANGE RATE US $ 1000 INVESTED IN NRI BONDS WILL GROW TO OVER RS. 31,900 ON MATURITY* *tassuming—Rate of interest on Bonds-11.50% p.a. Exchange rate: 1 US 8 = Rs. 14.60)

Dear Junior Readers,

In our technological age, people are very interested in what we can do with science. Our world is full of wonderful machines that can do things people would never have believed possible even 100 years ago. But as fantastic as these inventions are, I cannot help thinking what a pity it is that art is no longer considered to be of much Importance. I believe that if someone has a talent for painting. drawing, making music or writing, then they have a very special gift whose place in life is just as important as a talent for scientific

For this reason, I am very pleased to see that there are still people who care enough about art to organise competitions like the one I gave you details of in Tuesday's Junior Times. I do hope that a lot of you will take part in the competition. Even if you do not win a prize, ! am sure you will really enjoy creating your piece of work and, you never know, you might discover talents you never knew you had!

ONCE upon a time, there was a little brown Field Mouse; and one day he was out in the fields to see what he could find. He was running along in the grass, poking his nose into everything and looking with his two eyes all about, when he saw a smooth, shiny acorn lying in the grass. It was such a fine shiny little acorn that he thought he would take it home with him; so he put out his paw to touch it, but the little acorn rolled away from him. He ran after it, but it kept rolling on just ahead of him, till it came to a place where a big oaktree and its roots spread all over the ground. Then it rolled under a big, round

Little Mr Field Mouse ran to the root and poked his nose under the acorn, and there he saw a small round hole in the ground. He slipped through and saw some stairs going down into the earth. The acorn was rolling down, with a soft tapping sound, ahead of him, so down he went too. Down, down, down, rolled the acorn, and down, down, down, went the Field Mouse, until suddenly he saw a tiny door at the foot of the stairs. The shiny acorn rolled to the door and struck against it with a tap. Quickly the little door opened and the acorn rolled inside. The Field Mouse hurried as fast as he could down the last stairs, and pushed through just as the door was closing. It shut behind him, and he was in the room. And there, before him, stood a queer little Red Man! He had a little red cap, and a little red jacket, and odd little red shoes with points at the toes. "You are my prisoner," he said to the Field Mouse. "What for?" said the Field Mouse.

The little Field Mouse

"Because you tried to steal my acorn," said the little Red Man.

"It is my acorn," said the Field Mouse; "I found it." "No, it isn't, said the little Red Man, "I have it; you will never see it again.

The little Field Mouse looked all about the room as fast as he could, but he could not see any acorn.
Then he thought he would go back up the tiny stairs to his own home. But the little door was locked and the little Red Man had the key. And he said to the poor Mouse, "You shall be my servant; you shall make my bed and sweep my room and cook my broth.

So the little brown mouse was the little Red Man's servant, and every day he made the little Red Man's room and cooked the little Red Man's broth. And every day the little Red Man went away through the tiny door and. did not come back till afternoon. But he always locked the door after him, and carried away the key.

At last, one day he was in such a hurry that he turned the key before the door was quite latched, which, of course, didn't lock it at all. He went away without noticing - he was in such a hurry.

The little Field Mouse

knew that his chance had come to run away home. But he didn't want to go without the pretty, shiny acorn. Where it was he didn't know, so he looked everywhere. He opened every little drawer and looked in, but it wasn't in any of the drawers; he peeped on every shelf, but it wasn't on a shelf; he hunted in every closet, but it wasn't in there. Finally, he climbed up on a chair and opened a wee, wee door in the chimney piece - and

He took it quickly in forepaws, and then he took it in his mouth, and then he ran away. He pushed open the little door, he climbed out up the little stairs; he came out through the hole under the root; he ran and ran through the fields; and at last he came to his own

When he was in his own house he set the shiny acorn on the table. I expect he set it down hard, for all at once, with a little snap, it opened! — exactly like a

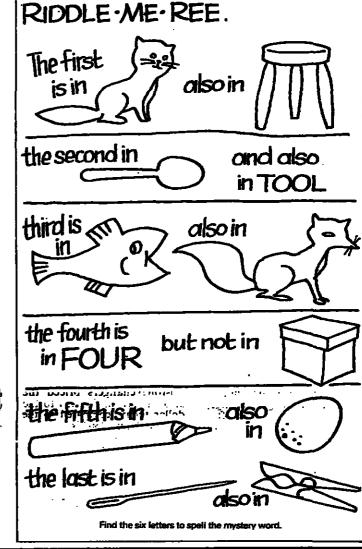

And what do you think!

There was a tiny necklace inside! It was a most beautiful tiny necklace, all made of jewels, and it was just big enough for a lady mouse. So the little Field Mouse gave the tiny necklace to his little mouse-sister. She thought it was perfectly lovely. And when she wasn't wearing it she kept it in the shiny acorn box. And the little Red Man never knew what had become of it because he didn't know where the little Field Mouse lived.

Giants slam Royals

GIANTS outclassed Royals 7-2 in a Little League baseball game over the weekend.

Royals looked strong in the first innings with pitcher Jason Zeplin holding the Giants, allowing only one batter to walk and striking out the next two batters. Fought

The Royals were able to score two runs and take an early lead but the Giants soon fought through pitcher Mako who did not allow the Royals to score again. Giants started hitting and the game went their way.

In an earlier game Mariners shrug off a strong challenge from Mets to win their match 14-11. Tigers also had things their way this week, thrashing Cubs 22-9. Ridah Bebahani and Jacob Hashem hit homeruns.

The Astros and Blue Jays played a great game. The first inning ended with the Blue Jays scoring 7 runs. RBI's were contributed by Feras, Kareem and Masen. But the Astros didn't give up. Ziad Sakhleh and Justin Bolling were credited with 3 RBI's, and Grace Collwell 2, helping the Astros win a close game,

The game of the day, was the Athletics vs. the Cardinals. Cory Fox pitched a great game for the Cards, and did Dong Ha and Stanley Ehret for the A's. There were no homeruns in this game, just steady, one base at a time baseball. The Cards edged out the A's in the end, 11-10.

The Pirates and the Indians did a lot of hard hitting. Homerun hitter for the Pirates was Naseem Al Shaya. Bader Al Anzi, Nemut Minkos, and Ahmed Afani all hit triples for the Indians, leading them to 18-7 win over the Pirates.

The senior teams look very good. Scott Forties and Humitaka Midorkawa, were the winning pitchers for the White Sox. Erik Fox hit 2 triples, driving in 3 runs. The team is going to miss Grady Habib, the first baseman for the Sox, who injured his hand and will be out for the rest of the fall season.

Robby Bhatia and Jon Mc-Kasson pitched for the Red Sox. Robby is getting tougher each week. There is always a lot of good hitting between these two fine teams. The White Sox hanging on to win, 16-11.

Powerboat race to be held next week

By Gail Seerv

FOLLOWING the success of the 3rd Bi-annual Offshore Powerboat Race, which was held on October 28, under the sponsorship of the Arab Times/Seyassah newspapers, a further race will now be held on Thursday, Nov 17, and entitled the Kuwait Local Powerboat Race.

With the Arab Times/Sevassah races, care was taken to ensure that the races were of a sufficiently high calibre to attract overseas entrants. This was achieved, and these new races are geared towards local entrants. though anyone from outside will not be barred from competing.

Ordinary

In order to increase the number of boats participating, the boats will be split into two classes. Class A will be for racing boats, and Class B will be for ordinary boats. No driver should be discouraged from entering a race of this type because he does not have a fancy new catamaran hull - the Dubai races have been won by fishing boats on more than one occasion, and the faster racing boats are often more vulnerable to sea and weather conditions than their standard coun-

Part of the problem was that immediately following the second race in June, a number of racers had bought new boats. For the most part, by the time these were ready, and had arrived in Kuwait there was little time left for testing or improvement before the race.

As in most speed-orientated motorsports, the racers definitely get a strong urge to carry on racing, and with the Gulf calendar of nowerhoat races currently featuring only three to four races a year, two of which are in

The impetus behind this race comes from Hossam Al Sayafe, who is organising and backing the event. "We were not happy after the last race because we all had so many problems. We wanted to have another race as quickly as possible just for fun. We plan to hold these twice a year, which together with the Arab Times/Seyassah races will make four races a year."

Sayafe is prominent in the fled-gling Kuwait Society of Racers, with Mishal Al Jarallah. The main aim of the organisation is to promote the sport here and to ensure that it grows in a safety conscious and enjoyable way. The sport is struggling uphill in Kuwait, in comparison to Dubai where royal patronage and vast amounts of money ensure that there are ample rewards for competitors. The Kuwait events will almost certainly grow, so long as they continue to attract people who love to compete for competition's

It is still hoped that a Gulfwide challenge can be developed, so that there will be a Middle East powerboat champion at the end of each year. The racers are currently planning to travel to Jordan for a special race to be held there on Dec 16, and intend to enter the next Dubai race.

Werder Bremen survive late Celtic onslaught

BREMEN, West Germany, Nov 9, (Reuter): Werder Bremen of West Germany survived a late onslaught from Scotland's Glasgow Celtic yesterday to hold the visitors to a scoreless draw and advance to the quarterfinals of the European Cup.

The match, in which Bremen defended a 1-0 first leg lead, was a bad-tempered affair in which neither side were able to breach their opponents' defence. Celtic's only real scoring came in the 61st minute when Mark McGhee scraped the bar with a swerving shot from 22 metres. Header Werder's best scoring opportunities were confined to the first 20 minutes. A powerful header from Bremen striker Karlheinz Riedle was headed off the goalline by Chris Morris in the 4th minute and Celtic goalkeeper Pat Bonner managed to smother a Mirko Votava drive from the edge of the goal area five minutes later.
